

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR THE SELECTION OF MEMBERS OF THE EXPERT GROUP “TECHNOLOGY INFRASTRUCTURES”

1. Background

The Commission’s Directorate-General Research and Innovation (‘DG RTD’) has set up the expert group ‘Technology Infrastructures’ (‘the group’) with a mandate until 31 December 2024 to assist the Commission in further strengthening the provision of technology infrastructures to European industry including SMEs and start-ups.

Technology Infrastructures¹ (‘TIs’) provide Research & Innovation (‘R&I’), testing and experimentation services to support and facilitate industrial R&I, development of new technologies and help to scale-up products, processes and services before entering to market. With rising technological complexity, industry’s innovation capacity, productivity and international competitiveness heavily depend on such services, supporting the uptake of R&I results for the green and digital transitions and for emerging and critical technologies.²

Technology Infrastructures can be sector-specific or technology-focused and they can be public, semi-public or private. In this context, the current landscape of Technology Infrastructures is rich, while scattered and complex.

The work of this expert group is related to the implementation of the activities of Action 12 “Accelerating the green/digital transition of Europe’s key industrial ecosystems” under the ERA Policy Agenda (2022–2024)³, developed under the Pact for Research and Innovation in Europe (Pact for R&I)⁴ following the Communication on the New European Research Area (ERA)⁵.

The group is set up to support the Commission in the identification of strategic pilot areas for investments in TIs based on industrial needs analysis and appropriate selection criteria, and to develop (a) European level coordination mechanism(s). The ultimate aim is to foster the availability, accessibility and visibility of TIs, their services and interconnections at EU level, their complementarities and synergies with research infrastructures, and their role to support industrial excellence, innovation, and the twin transitions in line with sectorial industrial policies, strategies and roadmaps.

The results of the group will be shared with Member States as input to policy discussions and launching concrete work on pilot areas in view of targeted investments. In addition, the group will link to and take into account the work and results of other expert groups and relevant ongoing and forthcoming initiatives and activities, such as the European Strategy Forum on Research Infrastructures (ESFRI), the expert group on Industrial Forum and the work on industrial transition pathways, and industrial alliances⁶, the Innovation Friendly Regulations Advisory Group on emerging technologies IFRAG, the High level expert group on energy-intensive industries, and the governance for digital infrastructures.

The group will bring together industry-oriented expertise and scientific and technological knowledge from various stakeholder groups, including industry and SME associations, TI representatives with knowledge on demonstration capabilities, foresight, technology development in various Technology Readiness Levels (TRLs), operations and services provided by TIs as well as representatives from Member States and other public bodies and entities, such as the RI community (ESFRI and ERIC Forum), innovation and investments sectors (e.g. EIB or EBRD), as well as experts in national and cross-border financing and access to TI.

The group's specific tasks shall be:

1. to advise and support the Commission in the analysis of the landscape of technology infrastructures for selected industrial sectors/ecosystems and to identify pilot areas for TIs in relation to, among others, the EU Industrial Strategy and Green Deal Industrial Plan for the Net-Zero Age. This will include the following sub-tasks and deliverables:
 - a) Developing selection criteria for strategic pilot areas in industrial sectors/ecosystems or technology areas for exploring, developing and testing a European approach to technology infrastructures;
 - b) Collecting and mapping the needs of industry (incl. SMEs and start-ups) as users (public and private) of technology infrastructures, in selected pilot areas;
 - c) Identifying obstacles at national level (for ex: national rules, etc.) that could hamper creation of TIs;
 - d) Providing recommendations for investment prioritisation mechanisms to fill in gaps and needs for TIs and their services, taking into account the industrial ecosystems identified in the 2020 New Industrial Strategy for

⁶ The Alliance for Zero-Emission Aviation (AZEA); The European Raw Materials Alliance; The European Solar Photovoltaic Industry Alliance; The European Clean Hydrogen Alliance; The European Battery Alliance; The Circular Plastics Alliance; The European Alliance for Industrial Data, Edge and Cloud; The Industrial Alliance for Processors and Semiconductor Technologies; The Renewable and Low Carbon Fuels Value Chain Industrial Alliance

Europe⁷, EU policy priorities, ongoing initiatives and foresight knowledge of the group;

- e) Drafting an interim report on recommendations for strategic TI pilot areas in key industrial sectors/ecosystems or technology areas, presenting the key findings of the group under the task 1 to develop a European landscape of Technology Infrastructures and approach to prioritisation mechanisms for investments.
2. to provide the Commission with recommendations for (an) EU-level coordination mechanism(s) aiming at providing industry with the technology infrastructures needed in key industrial ecosystems, strategic sectors and technology areas. This should provide options for coordination among Member States to invest in closing gaps to create new and/or upgrading or up-scaling existing TIs and their services in order to anticipate and adapt to future needs and the evolution of the RD&I ecosystem. This task will include the following deliverable:
 - a) A report on options for coordination mechanisms for TIs at European level, including governance aspects and investment prioritisation.
 3. to support the Commission in the analysis of the TI access conditions and barriers to the availability of TI services for different users, i.e. large industry, SMEs and start-ups across the EU. This will include the following deliverable:
 - a) A report providing information on main barriers and challenges to access access to TIs (including national barriers and provisions), recommendations on conditions and practices for access to TIs leading to increasing the availability, accessibility and visibility of the TIs and their services in Europe, including for facilitating to find the right TI, as well as recommendations for a potential European charter of access to TIs (to be tested and implemented on voluntary basis).
 4. To drawn up a final report covering the key areas above with policy recommendations.

The group will benefit from a variety of ongoing or planned activities linked, for instance, to mapping of available TI services, identification of industrial user needs, analysis of European, national and regional strategies and programmes aimed at TI development as well as analysis of TI access conditions and related challenges.

Furthermore, the group will provide advice to the DG RTD in the preparation of policy initiatives in the field of TIs.

The Register provides information for each expert group, including personal data on the members of the expert groups, their alternate, and of the observers, and information may be provided about members’ and observers’ representatives. The Register also includes documents that are produced and discussed by expert groups and which can contain personal data.

For the purpose of this privacy statement and the corresponding records, the term “expert groups” describes Commission expert groups in the sense of Article 2(1) of Commission Decision C(2016)3301²⁰ and their sub-groups, as well as other similar entities in the sense of Article 2(2) of Commission Decision C(2016)3301 and their sub-groups.

2. Why and how do we process your personal data?

Purpose of the processing operations:

The Data Controllers collect and use your personal data to manage Commission expert groups, in particular by selecting their members and observers, and to ensure transparency on expert groups' membership and activities. In that context, in order to select among the applicants who best fulfil the selection criteria mentioned in the call for applications, Commission services collect and assess personal information of candidate members and observers of the expert groups, of representatives of candidate members and observers, and of immediate family members of candidate members to be appointed in personal capacity to act independently and in the public interest.

Furthermore, Commission services collect and assess personal information of observers and members' and observers' representatives of the expert groups which are appointed directly and not selected through a public call for applications.

For candidates, personal data are stored by the Commission service managing the expert group. Some types of personal data of individuals appointed as members (either appointed in personal capacity to act independently and in the public interest or to represent a common interest shared by stakeholders in a particular policy area) are made publicly available on the Register of expert groups (as described under Headings 4 and 5 of this privacy statement). The names of the representatives of organisations, Member States and other public entities, as well as the name of specific national departments or other public authority which they represent may also be made publicly available on the Register of expert groups.

Your personal data will not be used for an automated decision-making including profiling.

3. On what legal ground(s) do we process your personal data

We process your personal data, because processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest (Article 5(1)(a) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725), since it allows for the selection of members of expert groups (individuals appointed as members in a personal capacity, individuals appointed to represent a common interest and organisations) and also increases the transparency on expert groups. Processing is also necessary to comply with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject (Article 5(1)(b) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725). The Union act for such necessary processing under Article 5(1)(a) and (b) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 is Commission Decision C(2016)3301 of 30 May 2016 establishing horizontal rules on the creation and operation of Commission expert groups and in particular Articles 10 and 22 thereof.

As regards, in particular, the declarations of interests filled in by candidate members to be appointed in a personal capacity in expert groups, the processing of personal data serves the public interest of enabling the Commission to verify in the process of selection the experts' independence in providing advice to the Commission. Furthermore, the public disclosure of declarations of interests of those experts once appointed allows for public scrutiny of the interests declared by these experts, which is necessary in order to ensure public confidence in the independence of these experts. The public disclosure of declarations of interests also ensures a high degree of transparency with respect to the membership of expert groups and aims at contributing to fostering the integrity of the experts in question.

The names of the representatives of organisations, Member States' authorities and other public entities are usually not published in the Register of expert groups, as those persons only express the position of the organisation or entity that they represent, and, therefore, it is the name of the organisation, Member State's authority or other public entity that matters to ensure transparency of the work of the expert group. Any publication of names of the representatives of organisations, Member States' authorities and other public entities in the Register of expert groups is based on consent (Article 5(1)(d) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725), unless specific and exceptional circumstances make it necessary to publish them to achieve the purpose of the processing operation, in accordance with Article 5(1)(a) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725. No other types of personal data of representatives is published.

The submissions of members in the context of the work of expert groups and subgroups are generally made public, with personal data withheld where appropriate.

In the cases when the group is chaired by a person different than the Commission or its services, the name of this person may be published on the basis of consent (Article 5(1)(d) of Regulation (EU) No 2018/1725).

4. Which personal data do we collect and further process?

In order to carry out these processing operations, the Data Controller may collect the following categories of personal data:

- Name;
- Function;
- Contact details (for example, e-mail address, telephone number, mobile telephone number, fax number, postal address, company and department, country of residence, IP address);
- Information for the evaluation of selection criteria or eligibility criteria (for example, expertise, technical skills and languages, educational background, professional experience, including details on current and past employment);
- Nationality;
- Gender;
- Interest represented (only for individuals applying to be appointed as members of expert groups or sub-groups representing a common interest shared by stakeholders in a particular policy area and for organisations applying to be appointed as members of expert groups or sub-groups, as well as for their designated representatives);
- Information included in the declarations of interests, including personal data of immediate family members as required in the declaration of interests (only for individuals applying to be appointed as members of expert groups or sub-groups in a personal capacity).
- Personal data that may be included in submissions of members of expert groups.

The provision to the Commission service of the personal data required is mandatory to meet a legal requirement of selecting members of expert groups as set in Commission Decision C(2016)3301. In principle, for individuals appointed as members or observers in personal capacity to act independently and in the public interest and for individuals appointed as members or observers to represent a common interest, the types of personal data listed above (with the exception of contact details and information for the evaluation of selection criteria or eligibility criteria) are made publicly available on the Register of expert groups, in order to comply with the legal requirement to ensure transparency on the composition and functioning of Commission expert groups. If you do not provide the personal data required, possible consequences are that you will not be considered for selection as a member of an expert group or, if already selected, your membership will be suspended.

The submissions of members in the context of the work of expert groups and subgroups are generally made public, with personal data withheld where appropriate.

With the prior freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous consent of the representatives of organisations, Member States' authorities and other public entities, their names may also be published on the Register. They may furthermore be published in specific and exceptional circumstances where such publication is necessary to achieve the purpose of the processing operation.

The name of a person chairing the group, when this person is not from within the Commission (i.e. the group elects a chair from among its members or the Commission or its services appoint an individual as chair), may be published with his/ her prior freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous consent.

5. How long do we keep your personal data?

The Data Controller only keeps your personal data for the time necessary to fulfil the purpose of collection or further processing. The following modalities apply:

- The competent Commission services keep personal data submitted to them as part of rejected applications for three years after the end of the selection process and do not process them for other purposes; these personal data are not published on the Register of expert groups.
- The expert group and some types of personal data of its members and observers, as described in Heading 4, are published on the Register of expert groups during the duration of existence of the expert group.
- When an individual is no longer member or observer or representative of a member or observer of an expert group listed in the Register of expert groups, all personal data related to this individual, including a declaration of interests, is removed from the Register and is therefore not public anymore.
- The competent Commission services keep personal data for the period during which the relevant individual is a member or an observer or a representative of a member or of an observer of the group and for five years after the date on which the individual is no longer member or observer or representative of a member or observer of the group. Following this five-year period, the personal data is transferred to the historical archives and a review takes place no later than 25 years after that transfer to the historical archives to evaluate whether to keep the data permanently or to delete some or all data.
- When a group is closed down, it remains published in the Register of expert groups for five years, with the indication 'Closed'. Those types of personal data other than the declarations of interests of members appointed in personal capacity that were published while the group was active remain visible on the Register of expert groups during these five years. On the contrary, the said declarations of interests are removed from the Register after closure of a group and are therefore not public anymore; they are however kept by the competent Commission service for a period of five years after the closure of the group. Following this five-year period after the closure of the group, the personal data is transferred to the historical archives and a review takes place no later than 25 years from that transfer to evaluate whether to keep the data permanently or to delete some or all data.
- An XML file is created daily with all the information regarding active groups. All versions of this file, showing the situation of the Register of expert groups as of the day it was created, are stored in a file server for 5 years and are not public.

6. How do we protect and safeguard your personal data?

Personal data submitted in paper form is stored in the competent Commission service. All personal data in electronic format (e-mails, documents, databases, uploaded batches of data, etc.) are stored on the servers of the Commission. All processing operations are carried out pursuant to the Commission Decision \(EU, Euratom\) 2017/46 of 10 January 2017 on the security of communication and information systems in the European Commission.

In order to protect your personal data, the Commission has put in place a number of technical and organisational measures. Technical measures include appropriate actions to address online security, risk of data loss, alteration of data or unauthorised access, taking into consideration the risk presented by the processing and the nature of the personal data being processed. Organisational measures include restricting access to the personal data solely to authorised persons with a legitimate need to know for the purposes of this processing operation.

7. Who has access to your personal data and to whom is it disclosed?

Access to your personal data collected in the course of the process of selection of members of expert groups is provided to the Commission staff authorised for carrying out this processing operation and to other authorised Commission staff according to the “need to know” principle. Such staff abide by statutory, and when required, additional confidentiality agreements.

Certain personal data collected, as explained in Headings 4 and 5, are publicly available on the Register of expert groups.

The XML files referred to in Heading 5 are only accessible to a reduced number of users in the Secretariat-General (System Owner) and IT development team within the Commission (System Supplier).

Please note that pursuant to Article 3(13) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725, public authorities (e.g. Court of Auditors, EU Court of Justice, European Ombudsman) which may receive personal data in the framework of a particular inquiry in accordance with Union or Member State law shall not be regarded as recipients. The further processing of those data by those public authorities shall be in compliance with the applicable data protection rules according to the purposes of the processing.

The information we collect will not be given to any third party, except to the extent and for the purpose we may be required to do so by law.

8. What are your rights and how can you exercise them?

You have specific rights as a ‘data subject’ under Chapter III (Articles 14-25) and Article 35 of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725, in particular the right to access your personal data and to rectify them in case your personal data is inaccurate or incomplete. Under certain conditions, you have the right to erase your personal data, to restrict the processing of your personal data, to object to the processing and the right to data portability.

You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data on grounds relating to your particular situation in accordance with Article 23(1) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725.

As indicated in Heading 4, if you are a representative of an organisation, Member State or another public entity, you may consent to have your name published on the Register of expert groups. You can withdraw your consent at any time by notifying the Data Controller. The withdrawal will not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out before you have withdrawn the consent.

Finally, and only as regards the publication of your name on the Register of expert groups, you may submit a request to the competent Commission service for a derogation where justified on compelling legitimate grounds in relation to your specific situation (such as the case where the publication of your name on the Register of expert groups could endanger your security or integrity).

You can exercise your rights by contacting the Data Controller or, in case of conflict, the Data Protection Officer. If necessary, you can also address the European Data Protection Supervisor. Their contact information is given under Heading 9 below.

Where you wish to exercise your rights in the context of one or several specific processing operations, please provide their description (i.e. their Record reference(s) as specified under Heading 10 below) in your request.

Data subject requests shall be handled within one month from receipt of the request by the Commission. That period may be extended pursuant to 14(3) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725. Should more time be required to handle the request for justified reasons, the data subject shall receive a holding reply from the unit responsible for the request.
