The first call has just closed and we are looking for experts to evaluate the proposals received. Proposals can be addressed to any of the four knowledge areas, namely, Humanities, Social Sciences, Experimental Sciences and Health. Therefore expert evaluators from any of these areas will be welcome.

Experts will have to evaluate the proposals of the candidates applying to the programme, including their CVs, along the criteria of Excellence (both scientific and in terms of the training program), Impact and Quality of the implementation. They may also be asked to participate in remote interviews with the candidates. Proposals will be in English and have a maximum length of 13 pages and will be distributed among the evaluators of the four panels corresponding to the aforementioned knowledge areas. Evaluations will be done remotely.

The tentative time frame for the evaluations is November 2020 - March 2021. Evaluators will receive a stipend for each evaluation/interview completed, plus an additional stipend in case they act as chairperson of the panel./
